Studying a model of the Palo Duro Canyon Amphitheater are from left Earl Parge, W.A. "Bill" Moore and Paul Hadley. Parge is architect for the theater. Moore is a member of the West Texas State College faculty and Hadley, Frankfort, Ky. was principal speaker at the annual membership meeting of the Panhandle Heritage Foundation here Sunday.

Members Say Condition Go On Heritage Theater

Plans are moving ahead for the opening of Panhandle Heritage Foundation's amphitheater by next summer.

Members of the foundation Sunday voted unanimously to go ahead with building of the big amphitheater in the canyon where a Paul Green play depicting the history of this area will be staged.

Architect Earl Parge, Amarillo, said bids on construction probably will be received in August. Actual building should begin in the near future.

Heritage board members approved a plan to hire a full-time manager for the project. On the committee to seek and screen applicants are Dr. John Denko, Harold Dunn and Mrs. Ples Harper.

In general session members of the foundation unanimously voted down a motion to put $155,000 already raised for the symphonic drama in a savings account. Instead they expressed themselves in favor of building the part of the theater essential for the production, even if it is a bare minimum.

Parge explained that if funds are short, enough to the theater may be built to permit staging the play and then may be added to later when money is available.

For example, a bare minimum could be constructed for as little as $70,000 and the play still could be staged there.

Kerry Knorrp, a young West Texas State College student from Canyon, spoke out enthusiastically for beginning construction as soon as possible.

"Let's put our money down in the canyon so we can open this show next summer," declared Eddie Melin of Amarillo.

Paul Hadley of Frankfort, Ky. told the group that the impact of the drama upon the area economy can be fantastic. He is Kentucky commissioner of the department of commerce.

He urged that everyone in the entire area be made boosters of the Heritage production. He

Softball League Formed For Men

It is time for the men in Canyon to get interested in that summer sport of softball.

So sponsors and managers in the men's softball league should meet tomorrow (Friday) at 7 p. m. in the Commissioners Courtroom in the Sheriff's office.

Teams will be formed and a schedule will be arranged at this meeting.

specifically mentioned service station attendants and restaurant waitresses.

He said the state should help in certain phases of building and servicing the amphitheater and urged delegations from the area to call upon state officials to insist that this help be forthcoming.

He said more western dress would accentuate local color here and be pleasing to tourists. He stressed the need for participation by area chambers of commerce, especially those of Canyon and Amarillo.

He said the play has several "built-in" factors of success. Among others, he enumerated a great author, a fine theater site, a magnificent story to tell, a good tourist trade to present, excellent roads, area people with enlightened self-interest and a people with warm hospitality.

The foundation board voted to return a revised contract to Green with a partial payment. Green is scheduled to begin writing of the drama immediately.

Ultimate goal for the Heritage Foundation fund is $350,000. Fund raising efforts will continue.

School Facilities Ok'd In Umbarger Vote

A $25,000 bond issue for improvements at Umbarger School carried by a landslide.

The vote was 42 for and 2 against.

Randall County commissioners court canvassed the vote at a regular meeting Monday.

The bond issue will provide funds for the remodeling of the school's present gymnasium into classrooms and construction of a new gym.

In other business, the court confirmed the appointment of Mrs. Betty Hodges as assistant county auditor to assist E.T. Cummings in that capacity.

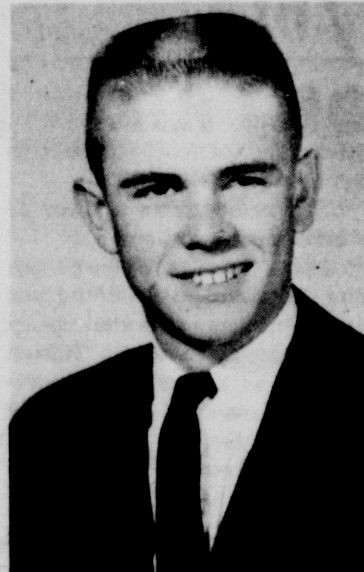

Mrs. Hodges replaces Shirley Payne, who has resigned.

Mrs. Hodges is a graduate of Amarillo High School. She has been employed since February of last year as secretary to the supervisor of Texas State Department of Public Welfare in Amarillo.

The court accepted a plat for Lake Stockton and discussed a selective dialing system for the county's direct line to Amarillo.

Conspicuous by its lack of mention at the meeting was the court's controversy with Canyon city commission over a rural fire fighting contract.

Henry Meyer Wins Third In Contest

HENRY MEYER

Henry Meyer, 17, was named third place winner in the Ladies Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars state essay contest at the VFW state convention in Houston last week.

Meyer, who graduated from Canyon High School in May, won first place in the local contest in March. He wrote on "America the Beautiful-How Long Without Clean Water?" which was the essay topic picked by the Auxiliary.

Meyer, who credits his win to the Auxiliary.

Music Camp To Begin At WT Sunday

More than 400 area high-school musicians are expected here Sunday at West Texas State College to begin the tenth annual West Texas Music Camp. Enrollment for this summer's camp is the largest in the history of the camp.

Students will audition Sunday, starting at 1 p. m. for places in the camp's four bands, before beginning Monday with a two-weeks program of intensive training in instruments, baton twirling, drum majoring, and choral work.

Conducting the camp's top band, the Symphonic Band, for more advanced students, will be James Matthews, director (See MUSIC, Page 3)

Ruling Eases Load On Courts

Justice of the Peace W.A. "Bill" Wilson reports that the projected change in the auto insurance rate law has had a definite effect on his court.

He said four pleas of guilty have been received from defendants who formerly had entered pleas of not guilty. The pleas came after announcement of the projected insurance rate revision.

Under projected revision of insurance rating, drivers no longer will be penalized on auto insurance rates for convictions of traffic violations.

Drainage, Sewage Most Urgent Items

By TROY MARTIN

Appointment of a 15-man committee to study needs of the city for the next five years was discussed Monday night at a meeting of Canyon city commission.

Proposals call for breaking the committee into three divisions. These would be (1.) drainage, (2.) sewage and (3.) financing.

City Manager Bill York said drainage and sewage are the two most important items to be studied. "Drainage is our most pressing problem," he declared.

City officials have requested owners of vacant lots to clean them up.

"Due to recent rains, lots are really getting out of hand,"

York declared. The city has requested that such lots be mowed.

Under the city home rule charter and provided by city ordinance the city is in legal position to demand that vacant lots be mowed.

City officials plan to make a survey of vacant lots soon. If owners refuse to clear such lots, the city is in legal position to do so and then charge cost back to the property owner.

Officials pointed out that weeds and grass allowed to go unattended become breeding places for flies and mosquitoes and create health hazards.

York said the city will supply names of custom mowers upon request.

The city manager announced that money for extending water lines to the new motel under construction south of town has

Hubbard Says White Pushing Freeman Program

John White is aiding and abetting Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman in promoting his programs.

This was the charge brought here this week against the present Texas commissioner of agriculture by Harry Hubbard, GOP candidate for that office.

"I believe the present farm programs are a part of a socialistic program," the Marfa rancher declared. Hubbard is a retired Army officer who says his intent is to try to do something to free Texas agriculture.

He enumerated several instances of federal encroachment on the freedom of the people who put food on America's table and then charged that his opponent is fostering that encroachment.

He cited White's presenting an endorsement of Freeman's proposals to the secretary at a meeting in Rosebud in June of last year. He said the endorsement thus presented was secured by White from representatives of certain minority farm organizations assembled by White.

Hubbard promised to make the Texas Department of Agriculture a focal point for the people of agriculture. "Nowhere in this state is there a focal point for agriculture at the present time," the rancher declared.

Hubbard said agriculture now is governed by the US Department of Agriculture---often by rules never submitted to Congress.

"And when a farmer is accused of making a mistake he is not even entitled to a trial by jury," Hubbard went on.

Tickets For Rodeo Week Now On Sale

Competition is running high this week between several of the Canyon civic clubs as barbecue and pancake supper tickets went on sale for the Randall County Rodeo August 2-4.

Lions Club members and Rotary members are challenging each other on the sale of barbecue tickets. The club which sells the least tickets will be in charge of serving tables and cleaning up after the barbecue supper which is Thursday, August 2.

The Kiwanis Club and the Jaycees are challenging each other on the sale of Pancake Supper tickets. The club losing this sale will cook and serve the pancakes at the supper Saturday August 4. The pancake supper will follow the Old Settlers meeting the afternoon of the 4th.

The Randall County Sheriff's Posse are selling tickets for the half beef to be given away the final day of the Rodeo.

Tickets for the three events went on sale this week. Barbecue tickets are $1.50 per plate and pancake tickets are 75 cents per plate. Any old settlers that are registered will get into the pancake supper free.

Palo Duro Entrance Rates Go To $1.00

Buddy Hoskins, Palo Duro Park ranger, has announced new park entrance rates that become effective Monday.

This new rate is $1.00 per car. This will cut down the amount of time required to collect entrance money. The old fee was 50 cents for car and driver and 30 cents for each additional person. Children were charged 15 cents.

The change was announced from Austin Monday morning.

So The People May Know

(An Editorial)

Some time in October the city will present a bill for rural fire fighting to Randall County.

Under provisions of a resolution already passed by commissioners court, the county will make certain deductions from that bill. This will automatically breach the rural fire fighting contract now existing between the city and the county.

City fire trucks legally are barred from going outside the city limits without such a contract. The result will be that hundreds of rural people will find themselves without any fire protection at all.

Let's look at the reasons. The resolution which may ultimately result in loss of fire protection for rural folks of this county was introduced by Commissioner C.Y. Johnson.

The contract under which the city is answering fire calls in the country went into effect two years ago and was signed by all five members of the present commissioners court.

The contract still has two years to run if it is not terminated or breached by either of the two parties. It would have been understandable had the county notified the city of intent to terminate the contract under terms of its 30-day escape clause.

This the commissioners court did not do—in spite of advice from the county attorney that the course upon which the county is bent can result only in breach of contract.

Upon instructions from commissioners court County Auditor E.T. Cummings prepared a letter of less than diplomatic phraseology and sent it along to the city commission.

It was not a proposal. It notified the city commission of a fact accomplished— an accomplished fact. It was an announcement that commissioners court (with Clarence Beckman dissenting) had taken upon itself to unilaterally revise a bilateral contract without any consultation whatever with the second party (the city commission) involved.

This in itself was the gravest indecency in dealings of one sub-division of government with another. Members of the city commission promptly rejected the letter forwarded by the commissioners court and would have been remiss in their duty had they failed to do so.

The county resolution which stirred the dissension included a provision that members of commissioners court meet with the city commission. Commissioner Beckman attended a city commission meeting but if commissioners court has made any effort to arrange a full-scale meeting of the two governing bodies to discuss the contract, it has been a well-kept secret.

Commissioners court repeatedly has had legal advice to the effect that the court has not acted prudently in this matter. The majority of the court has chosen to ignore this advice.

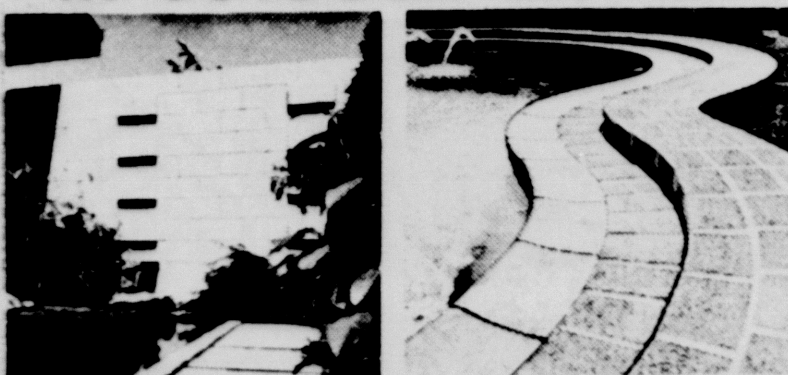

We can only assume that these members, especially Mr. Johnson, are willing to take responsibility if the contract is breached and a tragedy results.

Historically, it is a pity that others must suffer for those who are too headstrong to negotiate their differences. In this case those who appear destined to suffer the consequences for a deed not of their doing are the rural people of Randall County.

watch the central inspection agency?

This column has been in a swirl of controversy since we criticized speakers who appeared on public platform here in recent months.

We are happy for this. It means people are thinking. If enough people think, right decisions will be reached. Our fundamental danger is that of the majority allowing a self-seeking minority to do its thinking.

This column is happy always to discuss issues with anyone.

To those who challenge the veracity of any of the news stories carried on speakers who have appeared here we make this offer. Come check our files on the stories in question.

Take a pencil and mark any passage in any of these stories wherein we have erred from truth. When the passage is marked, The Canyon News then will apologize in public print for that error.

Until this offer is met, there is no valid basis for criticism.

Americans attending the "World Peace Conference" now under way in Moscow have been sternly warned by officials of the US government that their actions are not in keeping with the best interests of this country.

In spite of the fact that they have been told that they are bordering treason, many of these Red lovers no doubt will return to this country expecting to be accepted back without question into the fraternity of freedom.

Ten years from now when the results of this "Peace Conference" has about had time to ripen into deadly fruit for the fighting men of this nation, some of the participants no doubt will be "unable to remember" their part in this conference.

The conference now taking place in Moscow reminds us of the World Peace Appeal and the Stockholm Peace Petition of the early 1950s.

Our brothers in uniform have reaped and are reaping from Korea to Viet Nam the deadly harvest of this treacherous planting.

Who with this Black Mass etched upon his conscience could ever truthfully say he is "unable to remember."

We received this note recently from a reader.

"Secretary of Agriculture Freeman has established a central inspection agency in the Department. The new post will be commanded by an inspector general.

"The stated purpose of the new agency is to prevent irregularities revealed by the Billie Sol Estes case. This move will centralize the irregularities in one office, permitting a Billie Sol to operate much more efficiently.

"In other words, who is to watch the central inspection agency?

"The secretary's answer is to hire more watchers!

"The answer is to hire people who do not need watching and give them programs that do not encourage dishonesty. Honest backers will hire honest administrators and recommend programs that can be fairly and honestly administered."

A segment of the loop around Amarillo may become a reality within a few months. The loop, designed eventually to encircle

Amarillo, will be of major benefit to Canyon.

It could bring thousands more tourists to this playground and educational center of the Texas Panhandle. The loop, in its entirety, will cut every thoroughfare passing through Amarillo. Proper signs at intersections and a little groundwork in advertising will bring people here to see the museum, and to visit Palo Duro Canyon and the West Texas State College campus.

Development of this area can be hastened through a spirit of cooperation between Canyon and Amarillo. Especially do we need to be sympathetic toward Amarillo efforts to speed construction of its loop. It will mean a great deal more to Canyon's development than it will to that of Amarillo.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

According to your views in last week's news, it would seem that Mr. Baggerly's sledgehammer blows for the truth, right and freedom are beginning to register at last with you my dear friend and also I would imagine they are having more effect on Mr. Izzard than one might think.

Perhaps you feel left out as it seems that lately HMB has decided to ignore you and your feeble ravings, also those smiles among your editorial contemporaries could be interpreted in several different ways. Has it ever occurred to you that those smiles might be smiles of approbation for a real man who has guts enough to stand up for right and truth in contrast to what you and Mr. Izzard are putting out.

I have followed Mr. Izzard's so-called contributions to journalism for years and according to the product of his tripewriter he is very adept at saying things that ought not to be said and having unsaid many truths that should be shouted from the rooftops.

After your insane blast a few weeks ago at our college here in Canyon and the repercussions from it, one would think that you might be cured of blindly striking out at one who happens to disagree with your crackpot philosophy.

Even a two-year-old child who has had his fingers burned learns to be shy of fire but you? Never!

Also in a former issue of the news you make a remark that drew innuendoes to the effect that Mr. Baggerly was a more or less irresponsible character, perhaps chiefly due to his never having married and thereby having no descendants for which to worry about the future. Now I would not think that it would be in the best Chesterfieldian manner for anyone to make such an asinine remark about another's private life.

Who knows what has activated Mr. Baggerly along this line, to pursue a life of single blessedness? Perhaps he never could persuade a young miss to say yes, and thereby, through no fault of his own, has missed out on connubial bliss.

Also following your screwy reasoning along this line one might remind you that Jesus Christ never married and left no worldly descendants as well as innumerable Catholic Priests, George Washington married but left no descendants.

James Buchanan, our bachelor president neither married nor left descendants and it was Martin Van Buren, I think, who was perhaps one of our mediocre presidents who married twice and left a flock of fourteen children while Grover Cleveland who was older by several years than Mr. Baggerly when he entered the White House as a bachelor. Yet he subsequently married and left a fair sized brood. So one would naturally see that along your line of thinking there is still hope for Mr. Baggerly and when it is all said and done, one just cannot judge a man's patriotism by the multiplicity of his progeny any more than he can by his ancestors, which at one time lived in trees and subsisted on coconuts and even today it would seem that some of their descendants seem to be making a special effort to revert back to type.

Farmer Schaeffer

(Editor's Note: Mr. Schaeffer already has written a letter to the Tulsa Herald complaining because his letter wasn't printed soon enough. Let us say that we printed it as soon as space would permit. Further we charged Mr. Schaeffer not one dime for the forum we provide here. He is here upon the bounty of the man he has seen fit to abuse.

Mr. Schaeffer's impatience with his host is typical of the Washington people planners whose ideologies he so skillfully presents.

There is no point in our attempting to refute Mr. Schaeffer, he refutes himself. He writes of Jesus Christ, the priesthood and religion in one paragraph and then denies the brand of Christianity we embrace by insinuating that mankind is descended of apes rather than of Divine Creation.)

Your Better Hearing

The following suggestions are a continuation of last week's column on giving a hearing aid the very best of care.

7. Always keep spare batteries on hand for immediate replacement when your aid loses its power. There is nothing worse for a person who depends on his aid than to lose the use of the aid due to battery failure.

8. If your aid is the type which uses a cord, keep a spare cord on hand in case the connections or the cord itself should break.

9. The ear mold should be cleaned frequently in order to keep it free from wax. There are cleaning liquids commercially available. Alcohol may also be used.

10. As already mentioned, the batteries tend to corrode. Here are a few steps to follow weekly in order to overcome any corrosion of the hearing aid.

a. Rub the battery ends with an emery board or an eraser.

b. Do the same with the battery compartment contacts.

c. Rotate the volume control of your aid back and forth rapidly. Be careful not to be too forceful in that you may damage the volume control.

d. Rotate the tone control (if present on your aid) in the same manner.

e. While holding on to the heavy tip, pull the cord in and out of its socket two or three times. Be very careful not to pull the cord out of its plug in the process.

f. Do the same with the other end of the cord which fits into the receiver button.

Next week, we will conclude this discussion of hearing aids.

Hilltop Views

By and large civilization moves forward very slowly. For example, some of the noblest concepts of today had their origin 2000 and more years ago. Five centuries before Christ the Chinese philosopher and religionist Confucius wrote: "The gem cannot be polished without friction, nor man perfected without trials." More than 2000 years later C.H. Spurgeon, an English preacher, declared: "Many men owe the grandeur of their lives to their tremendous difficulties." And someone else said: "Adversity is the prosperity of the great."

Yet, in spite of the fact that this philosophy has been proclaimed more than two millennia and has been accepted in theory, not many of us, percentage wise, accept it in practice. Most of us run from hardship like rats from a burning building. Even the best of us at times find it difficult to live with unmistakable truth.

And so it is with all fundamental truths. We have a fine example of our allergy to basic concepts in the area of politics and government in this country today.

For example, a great many people who boast of their conservatism say in the same breath that they favor a return to the faith of our founding fathers—presumably to the faith embodied in The Declaration of Independence and our national constitution. Those same people condemn as radicals, hair-brained theorists, socialists, border-line Reds, or in some cases communists, all those who call themselves Liberals, or who refuse to be brain-washed by special interest groups.

This columnist respectfully calls the attention of all extreme conservatives to the fact that The Declaration of Independence, the greatest political document ever penned by man, was and is not only extremely liberal in content and purpose, but was positively revolutionary in its day. The fact is, it is still revolutionary in effect, for wherever in the undemocratic world it comes to be understood it produces a revolution. Witness the number of new free nations that have been born in the last decade or so, practically all of whom bear some of the earmarks of liberalism. A few have modeled their government after our own.

It is further noted here that Thomas Jefferson, who may reasonably be called a "Founding Father" of this country if any one is entitled to that honor, was so liberal that he was bitterly criticized by those who did not believe too strongly in the capacity of the common people to govern themselves.

Alexander Hamilton, a member of Washington's Cabinet, was notably conservative—notably distrustful of popular government. In the Constitutional Convention he offered a plan of centralization that provided for the election of federal officials for life. And John Adams, second president, asserted that "the rich, the well-born, and the able—must be separated from the masses and placed by themselves in a senate."

Nearly 200 years later we have good and intelligent Americans who believe substantially in the Hamiltonian doctrine, and they are making themselves felt in politics and government. They are plainly challenging the principles contained in our fundamental political documents. They do not accept either the Jeffersonian philosophy that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, or the Lincolnian doctrine of government "of, by and for" the people. Some of them talk loudly against "managed government" in Washington and then practice it with vengeance in their home communities. It appears that they believe in Jeffersonian policies and theories on the Potomac and Hamilton centralism and "managed government" in Podunk. Personally, if we must have "managed government" anywhere I prefer that it be handled by duty and constitutionally elected public officials than by private interests.

And this leads me to repeat what I have said before: In the current contest between the management of organized labor and the management of organized capital the great mass of voters in this country are losing the opportunity to choose men for public office who stand four square and unmistakably for the principle that all men are created equal in their right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. I have all respect for honest and public-conscious labor, as well as for all management of capital that has a sense of responsibility to the public, but I have no respect for dictators or would-be dictators in any part of our economy, or in our political, social or religious system. Both Labor and Capital are trying to run this government, and this fact accounts for many of our troubles.

I am now back to the starting point of this article. Civilization moves forward very slowly. Freedom is always having to fight for its life. But, fortunately, in the long view, it is winning. It may be 2,000 more years, or even 2,000 times 2,000 before she unfurls her banner over all men everywhere, but I have faith that God's hand is on the throttle and that He has not lost, and will not lose his love for all mankind.

Dr. Story is scheduled to speak at 9 a.m. at the Canyon Elementary School on "Education and Aerospace." The session will wind up the three-weeks workshop, according to Dr. Thomas D. MacOwan, associate professor of education at WT and workshop director.

Workshop members Tuesday participated in an "airlift" from Amarillo Air Force Base to Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene. The session Thursday morning will feature an address on "General Aviation" by Shelby Kritser, owner of Tradewinds Airport in Amarillo.

Contemplation of what to do about the girl in the mummy's casket perplexes Sheridan Whiteside, left, and Banjo, in "The Man Who Came to Dinner," Kaufman and Hart's comedy to be presented Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College. The production, directed by William A. Moore, features drama students of the annual high school speech workshop which closes Friday. Playing Whiteside is WAM Moore, Jr., of Canyon, and the girl, Lorraine Sheldon, is played by Leigh Glenn of Amarillo. Banjo is Reggie Reeves of Canyon. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Orland Butler of Lubbock will conduct the Junior High Band, and Bill Woods of Levelland, will be chief twirling instructor. Conductor of the camp choir will be Alvis Autrey, choral and opera director of the San Antonio Symphony.

Music camp students will live in campus dormitories, and will follow a rigorous daily schedule of lessons, sectional and band rehearsals, ensemble work, classes, and recreation. Private instrumental lessons are available from some of the Southwest's best-known instructors.

The local contest which was opened to high school students was held in March and the essays were judged by Dr. Jack Walker, David Matthis and Bill Peart.

Babe Ruth Baseball Season Reviewed

BY GEORGE DE SCHWEINTZ
The Babe Ruth League winds up play this week after probably the best season in its six-year existence. Happy has entered the League this year, and next year Umbarger, a baseball stronghold of long standing, will probably be included.

This addition will mean six teams, with consequent expansion of the entire Canyon summer baseball program to absorb the newcomers and to provide more regularized forms of income.

It is hoped that in the coming months some kind of informal but businesslike assessment of the whole program will be undertaken by civic leaders in order that the deficiencies that presently exist, such as the general uncertainty attendant upon the running of the Concession Stand, will be ironed out.

It is thought that through careful and discreet planning and foresight these deficiencies can be worked out to the maximum community satisfaction.

This much has to be fully agreed upon: the program beginning with the Little League installation in 1956, followed by the Babe Ruth program in 1957, has provided sorely needed recreation and sharpened civic responsibility to the community youth of ages 8-17 to a degree deserving of congratulations on all sides.

As the season comes to its close the Babe Ruth officials wish to extend publicly their deep-felt appreciation to the coaches who have worked so splendidly this season: Earl Byerley, whose Cardinals were tops in the League; Roy Forehand, whose Pirates recovered from a shaky start to wind up second; Eddie Holcomb, whose White Sox managed the first no-hitter in League history, with Lonnie Neal on the mound; and Earl Crump, whose Giants, though having a poor year in the win column, showed that they were no easy team to beat at any time.

Bruce Winn for instance, starred at third base in the last game of the season, a make-up with the Pirates on Monday, July 9; and James Evans has been a League stalwart for two years, both on the mound and in center field.

These two are part of the promising All-Star group that heads for Levelland on Monday, July 9. Happy, coming in for the first time, did not show many victories. Their best players have been named to the All-Star group: Culp, their all-around player, Larry Payne at third base, Hobie McManigal at first, and his cousin James McManigal in center field. Their coach Walter Swayne, did an efficient job of working them into the League with little preparation.

The volunteer umpires have performed with more skill and more co-operation than ever: Roscoe Richardson, the dean of the corps and by now the one man to whom area baseball is so deeply indebted that it cannot ask him to do anything without a little catch in the throat and preliminary murmur of respect; John Cook, who will coach the Giants next year; Duane Guy, George Stevens, always willing to fill in as well as take their regular turn; Mack Winter, a fine Canyon coach who does not cease to be interested in youth when summer is here; and their helpers on the bases and behind the plate. Charles Smyrl, Jack Downing, Orville Hicks, Dave Matthis, Clark de Schweinitz, Jerry McFerrin, Avent Lair, Norman Smyrl, Joel Reese, Bill Ritter, Bill Callarman and Curtis Butler. Everett Culp, Dutch Cleavinger, Hampton Lisle, Dr. C.C. Callarman, and others have shared the job of score-keeping.

The All-Star team will play the Canyon American Legion team on Thursday at 7:30 in a practice session for the District tournament at Levelland on Monday, July 16. On the All-Stars are seven 14-year-olds all of whom can pitch well and play other positions and bat. These seven plus a few 15 year olds will make up the team led by Earl Byerley and Roy Forehand that goes to Levelland. A big crowd out to tonight to see this final practice game would help both financially -- to defray League expenses by generous contributions -- and morale-wise by giving the players a taste of the crowd that they will play before on Monday.

In six years Canyon has survived the first round of play only once. It is thus up to the appreciative fans and well-wishers to give the team a warm send-off by attending Thursday's game.

Even though they play Brownfield in the first round at 6:00 p.m. on Monday, July 16, they think they have the ability to stay with the all-stars of larger communities. At any rate, knowing that the town is behind them should make a very big difference.

Incidentally, Jody Sheets, a White Sox, should be mentioned as an All-Star team member; his name by mistake was not printed in the original list of the June 21 edition of the News. A report of the League's doings should not close without acknowledgment of the hours of hard physical work that Dr. Dudley Moore and his son, Joe, have put in on the diamond and surrounding area this summer.

Dr. Moore is at the Park almost every game, being Park attendant, foul ball chaser, High Commissioner, timer and general public relations man. To him, too, the parents, players and community owe a lot.

Improved play from infield to first base in all teams. Mark Olson, Huckaba, Ed Hinders, Hicks and other 13 year olds have participated in this general improvement.

Triple play executed by the Pirates against the Giants on July 9. A long fly to the outfield was caught and returned to third base for a put out of a runner from second. Meanwhile the runner on third left for home so far ahead of the catcher that he couldn't get back and was also put out at third. Catches in the outfield generally better than previously, with Evans, Haley, Matthis, Mark Lair, Cornett, Callarman, McManigal, Denis Butler and Sunderman showing up well.

The number of double plays has sharply increased this year, testifying to more alertness and greater baseball know-how. Pivoting at second base has been a joy to watch of late, bringing more and more loyal and admiring fans to the Park. Lonnie Neal's no-hit game against the Giants.

This sparkling achievement was a tribute not only to Neal, but to his coach Eddie Holcomb and his fellow players, who played against ball behind him.

The willingness of the coaches to play all players as much as possible, making every boy feel that he counts, regardless of age, experience and present state of playing ability. The co-operation of the parents in attendance and contributions to the hat passed around at each game. Also their complete trust in the officials, coaches, players and umpires.

The remarkably good condition of the Park, its cleanliness, and admirable suitability to the purpose it serves. The good good sportsmanship all around when the White Sox defeated the Cardinals for the first and only Cardinal loss of the season.

Here's how Gas heat COOLS your home!

Cooling with a Gas flame combines four simple laws of nature. The ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley GAS air conditioner employs them to produce the finest air conditioning science has yet devised!

First, BOILING, as in a percolator, moves the liquid refrigerant to the top of the unit in the form of vapor. Secondly, CONDENSATION, as on a glass of cold water, occurs, converting the vapor back to liquid. Next, EVAPORATION provides the chilling effect, just as blowing upon your hand, when wet, makes it feel cool. Last, is the ABSORPTION of the vapor by a salt solution called lithium bromide, in the same manner as table salt absorbs liquids. The liquid then returns to the "percolator" to start the cycle over again.

This is why an ARKLA-SERVEL Sun Valley GAS air conditioner has no moving parts to wear out or break down, and why it 1) has a life expectancy of three-to-four times that of an ordinary air conditioner, 2) does not lose its efficiency with age, 3) operates with a minimum of service or repair, and 4) maintains its low operating cost throughout the life of the unit.

All these reasons add up to LOWEST OWNER-SHIP COST... and make ARKLA-SERVEL Gas air conditioning truly the wisest investment you'll ever make for your home.

MRS. THOMAS R. SHOEMAKER

Norma Lou Henderson Wed Saturday In Joseph A. Hill Chapel Ceremony

Miss Norma Lou Henderson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson of Canyon, became the bride of Airman 3/c Thomas R. Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Shoemaker of Rayville, Louisiana, on July 7 at 2:30 in the afternoon. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Don Gaston, in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the West Texas State College Campus.

Miss Dorothy Higdon, organist, and Mrs. Joe Randall, soloist, of Amarillo, furnished traditional wedding music.

Mrs. Tommy Henderson, sister-in-law of the bride, was her honor attendant, and Miss Patricia Salmon was bridesmaid. Flower girl was Freda Hen-derston, a cousin of the bride and Larry Lawrence was ring bearer.

The attendants wore street length dresses of medium blue silk organza, fashioned with rounded necklines and full skirts gathered onto a fitted bodice. Their picture hats were of matching organza and they wore white pearl ear-drops, a gift from the bride. They carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Tommy Henderson, brother of the bride, served as best man, and ushers and groomsmen were B.J. Lawrence, Gordon Lowry, the bride's cousin, and Harold Knight.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length white gown of Alencon lace and net. The fitted bodice featured a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. The skirt was fashioned of tiers of ruffled net in front and back with panels of Alencon lace extending down the sides, and forming a short chapel sweep train. Her illusion veil trimmed in matching lace fell from a cap of braided lace encrusted with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations atop a White Bible.

Mrs. Henderson, mother of the bride, wore a light blue silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white flowers. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Shoemaker chose a dress of blue silk jersey, and she too wore white accessories and a white floral corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The three tiered wedding cake which centered the bridal table, was baked and decorated by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Mack Neese. Mrs. R.A. Hodges and Miss Betty Gouge, presided at the serving table, and Miss Jane Shoemaker, sister of the bridegroom, registered the guests.

The couple is at home at 202 Phil Street, Schertz, Texas while Mr. Shoemaker is stationed at Randolph Air Force Base.

Shoemaker, Miss Jane Shoemaker, and Mrs. Noel Harold, of Rayville, Louisiana; Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Neese and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Farnsworth, of Amarillo.

Margaret Harper's sister, Mrs. George McConnell, of Tucson, husband George, their two daughters, Edith and Marg, and George's mother, Mrs. W.C. McConnell have been here for a brief visit this week with Margaret and Ples while they are en route to New York, to meet daughter Ann McConnell. Ann has been attending college in Geneva, Switzerland for the past year and is returning home for the summer.

Steve Cataldi, the nine year old son of Ines Cataldi, is making his second trip of the U.S., since his arrival from Italy, a number of years ago. He is travelling with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller of Amarillo.

Alma and E.E. Perkins are keeping their grandchildren Rusty Perkins, 6, and his sister, Nancy, 2, while their mother is ill. Reports are that the parents will bear the brunt of this visit as Nancy is the first girl in the Perkins family in four generations.

Bill, Margaret and Wam Moore have had Bill's brother, Dale W. Moore, as their guest over the past week-end. He returned with them from Shawnee, Okla. where they were called by the death of their father, William A. Moore, Sr. The senior Mr. Moore was a pioneer Oklahoma resident who came to Prague, Okla. while it was still an Indian Territory. Researcher Tells Of Javanese Market

BY TROY MARTIN

Paving the way through research for changing backward people to support themselves is the task Alice Dewey has chosen for herself.

The dark-haired granddaughter of John Dewey, father of progressive education, is a social anthropologist who is devoting herself to the study of economics of backward people.

She has made a special study of certain areas in Java. Alice is here for a visit with her brother, Thornton Dewey.

She now is living in Boston, Mass. She expects to teach next term in Hawaii and then continue her research of economics in the South Pacific area.

Although she attended public schools, Alice grew up in an academic atmosphere in Cambridge, Mass. Her father was a high school science teacher.

She attended Radcliff, the women's branch of Harvard, where she majored in social anthropology. She attended the London School of Economics, also attended by one John F. Kennedy.

She has been in England until recently writing a book and preparing reports on her economic study of Javanese peasant markets.

Miss Dewey chose England as the place to do her writing because there she was able to confer with Dr. Raymond Firth of the London School of Economics, whom she considers the world's foremost social anthropologist.

Miss Dewey says that 80 percent of the population of Java is made up of peasants. The population is dense, even in rural areas where about 2,000 people live on each square mile.

"There you are never out of sight of someone else," Miss Dewey declared. "You are never more than five miles from a market place where thousands of Rupiah in trade is done daily."

She said the marketing problems of the Javanese are particularly complicated.

Before World War II, the staples were rubber, sugar, tea, coffee and tin. Java was an area with which to be contented in world trade and had been for more than 50 years.

Then Java was seized by the Japanese during the early part of the war and much of Java's market, including the United States, turned to synthetics and to other suppliers for these items of commerce.

Especially were inroads by synthetics great on Java's market for quinine and rubber. Markets dried up and some of them have not been regained these almost 20 years since the cessation of hostilities, declared Miss Dewey.

She pointed to the fact that coffee traditionally is known as "java" as an indication of importance of world trade to the well being of this small Pacific area.

"They (the Javanese) have to do something," Miss Dewey continued. "Their way of life is changing. The population is increasing about a million a year."

"They can't stand still. If they do they'll starve," she asserted. She gave this as a reason for her study and subsequent publication of a book entitled "Peasant Marketing in Java". "You make fewer mistakes when you know what you're doing," she asserted.

She said her findings are being made available to industrialists and business people all over the world to be used in commercial development of the area with which her writing deals. She pointed out that the information she has compiled will be valuable as guide posts for such developers.

Miss Dewey indicated that austerity may be coming to an end in Old England. She said there are more cars on the streets and folks there are buying more automobiles and clothing.

Folks are going in for style now more than they have in recent years, she reported. London is building. A greenbelt is being established around the city so the populace can enjoy outings and greenery.

Of English-style medicare, she said most of the people like it. Some doctors, especially the researchers, like it. It gives physicians in research wider access to more varied types of illnesses for them to study. It has made the lower classes more cognizant of the importance of caring for their health at the proper time.

"Lower classes, especially laboring people, used to just let their teeth rot out before they even thought of going to a dentist," Miss Dewey declared. "Now they have learned that it is important to have their teeth cared for at the proper time."

She said Englishmen still are convinced that England plays a more important role in the British Commonwealth of Nations than most Americans are led to believe.

The Commonwealth is based on trade preference. Miss Dewey said England's position with the European Market may hinge on the trade concessions she is able to obtain in that market for her Commonwealth.

Royalty is well entrenched, serves a purpose and is in England to stay for the predictable future, Miss Dewey indicated.

She said the British and the people of the Commonwealth tend to be sentimental over their queen.

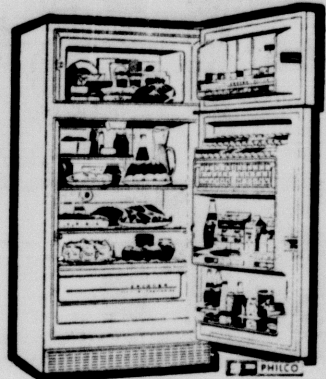

"The royal family stayed in London during the blitz and had a lot to do with British morale," Miss Dewey pointed out.

She said the queen still is a rallying point and although she exercises no actual political power, has a great deal to do with holding together the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Aerial Spraying Concern Based At Canyon

BY MARGO WILLIAMS
Thornton Dewey, part time farmer and flyer, has proven that crop spraying can be done on a large scale successfully.

Dewey, who is owner of the Trans-Aire company of Canyon, began bidding on large military aircraft in 1957. He got 12 Navy AT-6's and flew them to his home 6 miles northwest of Canyon. Dewey became the first civilian to convert and license such a plane as a sprayer.

"We bid on 12 Navy AT-6's then just reworked them so that they would carry chemicals instead of bombs," he explained.

After seven months of working on the bomber, Dewey tested them and found that the big plane was ideal for long spraying jobs.

With this realization Dewey bid on larger government planes and acquired two Navy TBM's. Then he purchased a Privateer bomber and was the first person to convert and license it under the civilian category.

"We used the sod near the house as a runway and our quonset as a hanger for the smaller planes," Dewey said.

He began bidding for government contracts on large spraying jobs, and he learned very quickly that his planes had to be ready at a day or two's notice.

"It's a scramble when they tell you to go. They (government entomologists) call you right after the grasshoppers have hatched and you have to start spraying before they lay again," he commented.

"You can spray about an average of 3-1/2 hours a day, especially in the mountains because of the heat," Dewey said.

"The thermal action and the wind in the mountains is bad, and in those heavy planes a pilot will wear himself out trying to spray under those conditions," he continued.

Dewey first became interested in flying in the early 1950's while using small aircraft to check his cattle.

"I got the (flying) bug and decided to try spraying my own crops," he said.

"I got interested in spraying on a large scale with big planes and it became a job," he continued.

"The hardest thing in this type of flying is trying to find experienced pilots," Dewey said.

"Flying at such low altitudes takes a great deal of precision. The planes are heavily loaded and with the mountain currents acting on them, pilots must know how to handle those big planes," Dewey commented.

Dewey has not limited himself to the spraying field of aviation.

"There are a lot of interesting things to do in aviation. I am interested in the possibilities in South America," Dewey said.

"Because the roads and railroads are limited, there is a big opportunity in flying beef out of Brazil," he went on to explain.

"One thing that stops me from going to Brazil is the political situation there," he commented.

Dewey expressed some interest in fire-fighting but said he would have to wait to make a decision on that field of flying.

This active 36-year-old man never seems to run out of energy. During the fall months he flies local businessmen to out-of-town ball games, and on Sundays he pilots for the Amarillo Sky Diving Club.

Dewey has never jumped with the sky divers.

"I guess I just don't have any guts."

So says this pilot who has spent the last 10 years diving his plane over mountain ridges and dodging tree tops.

Randall Riders To Tulia Rodeo

The Randall County Sheriff's Posse and the Junior Deputies travel to Tulia to participate in the Swisher County Parade at 3 p.m. Tuesday.

The Swisher County Rodeo begins July 14 and Tuesday will climax the 4-day event.

Tuesday's activities will begin with a Fly-In breakfast at the Tulia airport with a free breakfast for anyone flying in for the final Rodeo that evening.

The Tulia Little League All-Stars will have their playoff Tuesday morning followed by a sky-diving exhibition by the Amarillo Skydivers. Barbecue will be served at a $1.00 per plate for everyone except the local old timers.

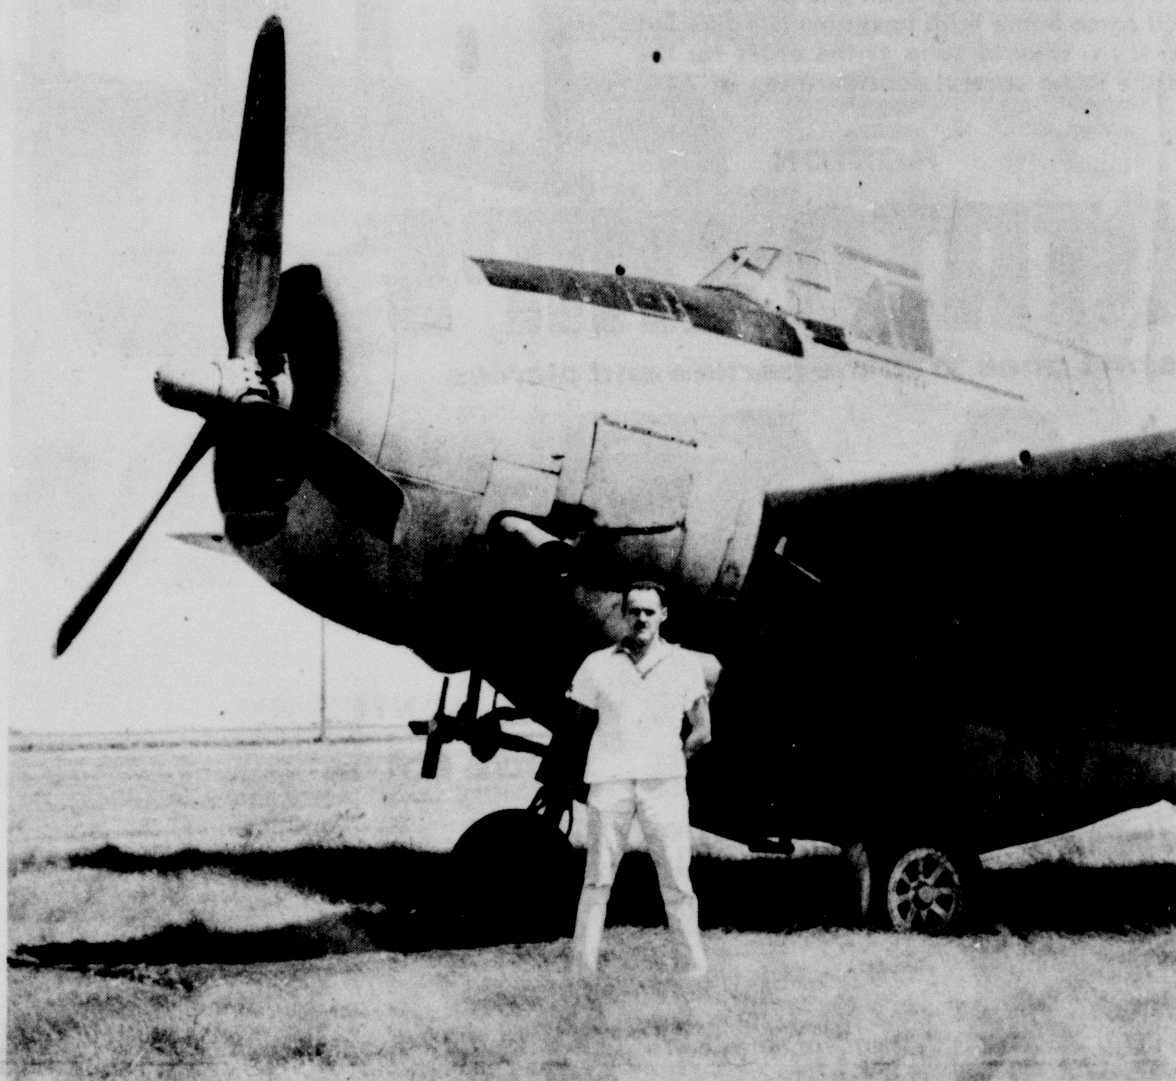

Tuesday afternoon activities will feature a fiddler's contest and a beard contest with the parade at 3 p.m.

Prizes will be given to the oldest pilot, the youngest pilot and the pilot flying the furthest distance to attend the 72nd annual Swisher County Rodeo and Picnic.

One of the main attractions will be the Amarillo Sky Divers free falling from 5500 ft above surface. They will do such maneuvers as turns, backloops, spins, barrel rolls and passing a baton to another jumper.

The Rodeo will begin at 9 p.m. every evening and music will be furnished by Jimmy Mackey and his Western Swing Band.

Thornton Dewey, owner of the Trans-Aire Company, stands beside his Privateer that he bought, converted and licensed to use as a sprayer plane. Dewey bids on government contracts to spray mountain ranges and forest areas. He began bidding on government aircraft in 1957, and now has his own runway for his planes.

Youths Plan Bake Sale

The Assembly of God Youth group will have a bake sale Saturday July 14, at Cooper's and Taylor and Sons.

Along with the cakes they will be selling fresh donuts.

Don Willingham of Amarillo was principal speaker Tuesday night at a regular meeting of the Canyon Conservative Club.

Harrington Gets Class 'A' Rating

Camp Don Harrington passed a rigid two-day inspection last week with a score of 99 points out of a possible 100.

Bob Glue, deputy regional executive of Dallas, was the inspecting officer in charge of the annual inspection at the Llano Estacado Boy Scout camp.

The only point missed in the four areas of camp operation was the lack of a resident chaplain. All other phases were rated Class A.

The camp was first judged on its physical facilities. This includes the dining hall, the administration building, infirmary, storage buildings, camp sites and the layout of the camp.

The pool, archery range, rifle range, rope yard and ax yard were given Class A rating under the program facilities.

Health and safety qualifications of the camp were inspected for food preparation, storage and all sanitation procedures. This area was given a Class A rating as was the camp staff qualification.

Camp Don Harrington was the only Boy Scout camp in the West Texas-New Mexico area to obtain a Class A rating last year. This area covers seven councils in the West Range of Region 9.

Dave Dunbar, assistant director of camping for the Boy Scouts of America, visited the camp this week. He presented Ray Moore, camp ranger, a certificate for his completion of the Camp Rangers School in St. Louis, Missouri, held in February.

Dunbar was on a trip from the national office in New Brunswick, N.J.

North Randall News

(Delayed)

Pack 97 Cub Scouts went to Camp Don Harrington June 7th. They enjoyed the swimming, though the water was cold. They also enjoyed home-made ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harp, Diane, Duane, and Miss Girdie Simpson, spent the weekend fishing at Lake Kent, however, they came home empty handed.

Diane and Duane Harp are having a good time visiting their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. V.A. Shelton of Dallas. They will be gone two weeks.

Carolyn, Tommy and Linda Wright from Albuquerque, New Mexico, are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fowlkes for an indefinite period, while their Mother recuperates from major surgery. Mrs. Wright is a sister of Mrs. Charles Fowlkes.

Girl Scouts of North Randall County certainly had a wonderful time at Canyon City Club, attending day camp activities. The Brownies represented Mexico, and the Intermediates represented Japan. Both troops wore costumes depicting the country they chose. They also had menus to coincide.

Guests Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Evans and children were Mrs. Evan's sisters and families Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Missildine and Tammy of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Flynt and Rita of Amarillo; Mr. Evan's Mother, Mrs. R.M. Evans of Elk City Oklahoma. Friends from Amarillo were Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Hethcox, Mrs. Ollie Flynt and Jimmy Brown. The group enjoyed boating and skiing on a lake near the Evans home. They also enjoyed home made ice cream in the afternoon.

Bobby Evans is home for a few days after being away in harvest. Bobby will be leaving again soon to go to Colorado to continue working in harvest. Bobby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Evans.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evert Johnson and children, Sunday were Mr. Johnson's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Johnson of Clarendon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Detten attended the funeral of Mr. Chester Krueger in Lawton, Oklahoma, June 13th. Mr. Krueger was the father of the Detten's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bob Detten.

Mrs. Bob Detten is still in New York with the Detten's infant son Rusty. Rusty underwent major surgery June 14th. Mr. Detten returned home by plane last week. Anne and Bobby are still staying with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Detten. Anne and Bobby are the Bob Detten's other two children.

Miss Kay Martin, Washington, D.C. student of Nursing at the Catholic University, is home visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Martin, 5212 East Slope, Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Detten, Route #2, Amarillo. Miss Martin is in her second year of studies. Upon completion of her studies, she will enter the Army Nurse Corps.

What a way to begin Bible School! Miss Nancy Barger slipped in the mud on her way to Bible School, and cracked her elbow, in identically the same place it had been broken previously. She says she feels fine though. "It doesn't hurt much". She is attending Vacation Bible School at the North Seminole Church of Christ, in Amarillo.

Master Scot Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wilson, had another "Bout with Bad Luck". Two weeks ago while horseback riding at a fast gallop the horse decided to stop, and Scot didn't. Scot sustained a cracked collar bone and a painful cut on his leg, which required twelve stitches. Get Well Soon.

Some plain facts about Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia
from

Consumers Fuel Assn. & Elevator

CANYON

RALPH SWITCH

Fact: Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia is 82.2% nitrogen... more nitrogen per pound than any other carrier. Fact: You cut it right into the root zone. It's ready to work without dissolving. Fact: Compare costs... currently most inexpensive nitrogen carrier... there are no bags or bagging costs, nothing to tear or carry. Applicator tanks are easy to fill. Fact: Monsanto Anhydrous Ammonia stays "locked" in the soil, ready to use. You can put your complete nitrogen requirements down in one application. Fact: You can save an extra trip through your fields by making the application as you plow. The proof: That's the check strip you leave in the field. Compare the facts... compare the check strip... and for a phone call you can compare a cost estimate. Here's the number to call:

YOU CHOOSE THE DOOR - WE'LL SUPPLY THE KEY

A door to a home can be as individual as a name. When you are ready to build or buy the home of your dreams, let us help you finance it. Why us? The reasons are many, but let's concentrate on the most significant ones:

First, we are specialists in home financing. By "specialists," we mean that we have a long and eminently successful history of home financing — a history that has taught us the ins and outs of the sometimes delicate mechanics of this important business. Second, we have a splendid working relationship with realtors, builders, architects, and other artisans of the construction world. We have built this professional partnership carefully and well. It benefits you. Third, we are justifiably proud of the speed with which we can process your home loan. This saves you money as well as anxiety. And fourth — well, we could go on, but why should we? You get the picture. If you want a fast, secure, conveniently financed home loan, see us soon, won't you?
